

Happy Holidays!

November 25, 2013

Comic Book Classroom's Denver Comic Con (CBC/DCC) was a tremendous success in 2013, in large part because of folks like you. We could not have imagined the growth we have experienced in the past two years, and we cannot imagine doing it again without your help.

With that in mind, we want to share some updates about the organization that will be important for our planning and work together in 2014.

First of all, Charlie LaGreca, with whom many of you worked directly in the past, is no longer with CBC/DCC. His considerable passion, dedication and talents will be missed, and we wish him continued success as he moves on from both CBC and the con.

One of the biggest lessons we have learned, both through our own experience and in speaking with other con organizers, is the importance of having the right people in the right roles. As a result, we have grown our staff more than 300 percent—from 20 last year to 65 this year.
